

The energetic grid of the earth

The earth is circled in a grid of light, its called the global grid matrix or sometimes referred to as ley lines, its not some fantastical idea it's existence is scientifically proven, it's a living electromagnetic 3D force field that runs through and around the world, through lands and seas. This powerful grid is what whales and dolphins use to navigate themselves around the world. All living creatures are sustained and impacted by this electromagnetic grid of light energy, as we live our lives our own electromagnetic energy field of light connects with and feeds back and forwards into and from the grid. The earths energy grid is impacted and connected to the stellar grid of light, the galaxies of stars and planets are all radiating light and energy which can be seen, however most of the electromagnetic light energy is beyond our vision but it does exist. Nasa explains it best!

What is the electromagnetic spectrum?

“The electromagnetic spectrum consists of all the different wavelengths of electromagnetic radiation, including light, radio waves, and X-rays. We name regions of the spectrum rather arbitrarily, but the names give us a general sense of the energy of the radiation; for example, ultraviolet light has shorter wavelengths than radio light. The only region in the entire electromagnetic spectrum that our eyes are sensitive to is the visible region.

The Electromagnetic Spectrum

About the size of:

Gamma rays have the shortest wavelengths,  $< 0.01$  nanometers (about the size of an atomic nucleus). This is the highest frequency and most energetic region of the electromagnetic spectrum. Gamma rays can result from nuclear reactions and from processes taking place in objects such as pulsars, quasars, and black holes.

X-rays range in wavelength from  $0.01 - 10$  nm (about the size of an atom). They are generated, for example, by super-heated gas from exploding stars and quasars, where temperatures are near a million to ten million degrees.

Ultraviolet radiation has wavelengths of  $10 - 310$  nm (about the size of a virus). Young, hot stars produce a lot of ultraviolet light and bathe interstellar space with this energetic light.

Visible light covers the range of wavelengths from  $400 - 700$  nm (from the size of a molecule to a protozoan). Our sun emits the most of its radiation in the visible range, which our eyes perceive as the colors of the rainbow. Our eyes are sensitive only to this small portion of the electromagnetic spectrum.

Infrared wavelengths span from  $710$  nm –  $1$  millimeter (from the width of a pinpoint to the size of small plant seeds). At a temperature of  $37$  degrees C, our bodies give off infrared wavelengths with a peak intensity near  $900$  nm.

Radio waves are longer than  $1$  mm. Since these are the longest waves, they have the lowest energy and are associated with the lowest temperatures. Radio wavelengths are found everywhere: in the background radiation of the universe, in interstellar clouds, and in the cool remnants of supernova explosions, to name a few. " hubblesite.org

Interesting if nothing else

What does this have to do with the angels I hear you ask ! The angels connect energetically to earth through the stellar frequencies from the realms where they exist, angels are found in many dimensions in the universe and though they themselves are bodies of light energy themselves they are often connected to specific physical places where they exist on a higher level of frequency. For example Arcturian angels are connected to Arcturus and Lyran angels are connected to Lyra, both different star systems in our physical universe. It is through this energetic connection to these star systems that they can access the energetic grid system of the earth and connect their energy to us through the elements and crystals.

Interestingly some people are incarnated as Earth angels, a topic we will cover more later, but these people have a specific soul connection to the angelic realm and as such they become two way conduits for the frequencies from the angelic realms to pass into the global grid matrix and also for earth frequencies to pass back there. It's a two pronged approach ! They can send the pure angelic frequencies through the stellar and earth grid and also do it by having incarnated earth angels living here, who connect with their realm through the stellar gateway chakra about 6 feet above your head.

The Elements

The four Watchtower Archangels who guard the four cardinal points of North, South, East and West have a responsibility to guard over one of the four elements in nature, for Raphael its Air, for Gabriel its water, for Uriel its earth and for Michael it is fire.

“Ancient man, whilst studying the nature of existence, discovered that the four mighty elements, which governed life, were fundamental to all manifestation. Understanding themselves as part of manifestation, these ancient people searched for the elements within themselves.

These elements were:-Air, Fire, Water, Earth.

As their thoughts were free moving, and unseen, they likened them to the element Air.

As their desires burned in their breasts, so they likened this to the element Fire
As tears flowed in response to their feelings, so they likened this to the element Water.
And, as the stability of their bodies, like the planet they lived upon, was the basis of survival, so this then represented the element Earth.

Extending this understanding, it was thus decided that there were four inner requirements for lasting happiness.” Order of the White Lion

Through this very human experience of the elements on a physical level within our own bodies we are making an energetic angelic connection.

Through Archangel Raphael, we connect with Air and our heart chakra. The heart chakra orchestrates healing throughout the body and hence Raphael is known as the Archangel of Healing. When we breathe a sigh of relief we are releasing tension and worry from our body, unburdening our hearts if you will. We let go through the breath and the organs associated with it, the heart and lungs. There are many spiritual practises that focus on the breath and as a rule they focus on the breathing out and letting go of the old, and the inhalation of new spirit energy whilst in meditation.

Through Archangel Michael we connect with the element of fire and our solar plexus chakra which glows a flaming yellow colour. It is our fire and drive and our centre of power.
Archangel Michael is known as the Archangel of Protection as he wields the sword of justice, he stands in his power in integrity and shows us how to hold our light in situations where our power “ our fire” is being depleted.

Through Archangel Gabriel we connect with the element of water and our naval chakra, the seat of our emotions. When we become emotionally overwhelmed this area of the body can experience physical symptoms like stomach cramps or feelings of sickness, it is through the release of tears that these painful emotions can start their release process and the body can begin to heal. It is at moments like these where we go into total surrender as we realise that we can no longer hold onto painful issues and emotions. I see tears as a real blessing and for the angels when you cry, they will always come and stand near you. This process is orchestrated by Archangel Gabriel.

Through Archangel Uriel we connect with the element of Earth and our base chakra, our stability and grounding. We are spiritual beings living a physical existence, we choose to forget our spiritual selves when we incarnate here, I believe the memories of it would make us not want to stay to carry out what we have chosen to do on earth. There are those who do have these memories, especially the crystal children who are being born on the earth at the moment and it makes it hard to live in this reality. However, all of us carry on some level the deep wounding of grief from our disconnection to the light realms. Many of you may have spent your life feeling like you don't belong and that you are not home. It is the role of Archangel Uriel to connect us to the physical earth so that we feel safe to be here and present in our bodies. Through feeling safe to be here we can go out into the world to create our physical reality.

The Elemental Beings

In the elements of the earth exist the elemental beings who work alongside the Archangels, they are the working team on earth and everything they do they do for us and the earth to keep it in balance. It is a really important role that plays out on a universal level, you will remember that we discussed how the energetic grid is connected to the stellar grids of light in the universe emanating from stars, planets and galaxies. If the frequency of the grid of our earth starts to distort it impacts everything it connects with not just us, but the whole universe! So as part of that the angelic realm and the elemental beings work together to clear the elements so that our energy grid is sparkling!!! Interestingly the Earth is referred to in the spiritual realms as the place of healing.

There are many elemental beings that work hard to sustain life for us on the planet;

Archangel Michael works with the element of Fire and is supported in the Elemental Kingdom by the Salamander who is known as the fire spirit.

Salamander is an intensely shy and elusive reptile of the Animal Kingdom. It descended from the first vertebrates to move from water onto land and has been called a “living fossil” the earliest known salamander lived about 150 million years ago during the Jurassic period. The word salamander is of Greek origin and translates roughly to “Fire Lizard”. In mythology Salamander resembles the real salamander in appearance, but makes its home in fires, the hotter the better, enduring them without harm. This myth may have originated in Europe from the real “fire salamander”, which hibernates in and under rotting logs are put on indoor fires. Salamander is also supposed to receive nourishment from fire, move through it unscathed and extinguish fire either with skin secretions of the extreme coldness of its body. Other myths say it is so poisonous it can poison the fruit on a tree by wrapping itself around it.

Salamander feeds your life force; it filters through the fire element and therefore sustains the energy for you to continue and complete what you need to do. It enables you to master the power of diversity and also gives you the inner power and knowledge to deal with life’s demands. It enables you to master the power of diversity and also gives you the inner power and knowledge to deal with life’s demands. Most importantly, Salamander supports you to obtain and develop endurance and wisdom to deal with any adversity that may come along.”

Archangel Raphael works with the element of air and is supported in the Elemental Kingdom by the Sylph who is known as the air spirit.

Sylph is the most evolved elemental air spirit or fairy. It has a perfect adult human form and great wings which fold behind it when not in use. It is easy to communicate with because of its superior intellect. It is also known as a “wind singer” as it is sometimes mistaken for an angel.

Its wings allow it to soar high into the heavens. It is believed to be an offshoot of the sidhe, a great bird of the mountains-winged ruler of the dreamtime, powerful, majestic and ethereal. Sylph has the ability to shape-shift and may even take on another form. It lives within the air element so prefers to reside on mountaintops. It assists humans to obtain positive desires and inspires their creativity.

Like the sidhe, Sylph has an ancient and proud legacy. It is very regal in manner and bearing. It honours its word and protects until death. Sadly, fewer and fewer are flying as the modern world creeps in. The few that are left, however, are choosing to come down from the mountaintops and re-join society to support the changes now occurring within our world. They are re-establishing the honour, glory and majesty inherent in their own kind.”

Sylph supports the healing process of our male and female `lines of force` to keep us in balance with the electromagnetic light grid of the earth. They also support the rejuvenation of the central nervous system and clear energetic weaknesses within the lungs and brain, thereby releasing stress related pressure in the mental and emotional body. Sylph helps us maintain a sense of balance at all times. Sylphs also bring through the magical healing properties created by the air and Fairy/Angelic Realms, creating more manifestation, passion and divine love in our lives.

Archangel Uriel works with the element of earth and is supported in the elemental kingdom by the Gnome who is known as the earth spirit,

“they are also referred to as one of the “little people” because their average height is only 15 centimetres. Their feet are slightly pigeon-toed, giving them extra advantage in speed and agility. Gnomes have expressive faces, bright, intelligent eyes, pointy ears and are very strong and sturdy. According to Paracelsus, Gnomes are the most important elemental spirit of the earth element.

Gnomes originated in northern Europe in the highlands of Scandinavia, migrating to the lowlands about 1500 years ago. Over time they entered into the inner dimensions of the Earth and now co-exists with the Fairy Kingdom. However, some have now migrated back to the surface and live in relatively untouched, wild, fertile areas, removed and relatively hidden from more populated areas of the world. Gnomes are largely subterranean and have been known to live in secluded rock caves or within large trees with hidden entrances. Gnomes are known to have a strong connection to the Animal Kingdom and sometimes free wildlife from man-made traps. Because of its love for the Animal Kingdom it is generally vegetarian, mostly eating herbs, grains, fruit, beans, potatoes or any other edible vegetation in its immediate environment.

The word “gnome” is said to be associated with the Greek gnosis, meaning knowledge. According to myth, Gnome hoards secret knowledge just as it hoards treasure. In Germanic fairy tales, such as the Brothers Grimm, it often resembles a gnarled old man living deep underground guarding buried treasure. In some traditions it is a small, mischievous sprite or goblin. In Iceland, Gnome is so respected, roads are re-routed around areas where it is said to live.

Gnome allows you to reclaim your sense of connection to the Earth and thereby receive a magical healing response, not only from the Earth herself, but also from the other kingdoms of the Earth, such as the Animal, Mineral and Plant Kingdoms. Through this connection your body will be able to make the necessary changes to respond to the Earth changes and ascend with her at this vital time of transition.

Archangel Gabriel works with the element of water and is supported by the Undine in the Elemental Kingdom, who is known as the water spirit.

Undine exists within the crystallised structure of water, which is geometrically similar to the geometries that sustain the formation of the crystals themselves. These etheric geometric structures are like Doorways into the different ethereal dimensions that are created more of ether. Undine lives within these parallel worlds but sometimes embodies more liquid in its ethereal form to enter into the ocean depths. It can then experience the sensation of the different crystallised properties sustained within the water here on Earth. Through entering into the depths of the ocean it can also interconnect and play with the many species that live here, from the different varieties of fish through to the dolphins and whales. Some people have said they have seen Undine manifest like a mermaid- the upper part of the body being the form of a human female and the lower half like a fish tail.

Undine helps support the crystallisation of water, which is the substance from which the human body is primarily formed. When the body is born into the physical world, it then sustains around 70% water, in relationship with the Earth's surface, which is also made-up of 70% water, consisting of lakes, dams, rivers and the vast volumes of the oceans themselves.

Through the Undine we are energetically supported to create a healing and purification process of the physical body and also to clear painful emotions that have been suppressed from deep within the psyche. The majestic Arcturian Archangels (around 12 feet tall) support the Undine to crystallise the water on our planet. Undine heals inner-pain and activates the frequency of the vibrational sound spectrum around every atom so that, eventually, all dis-ease can be healed on first a soul level and then in the body and consciousness itself.
